

Jordan's Glamour Girl teams up with dressage rider for charity

Billingshurst Times

by Charlie Ebers

01403 751206

charlie.ebers@wssexnewspapers.co.uk

AN INTERNATIONAL dressage rider from Billingshurst was proud to support the Breast Cancer Campaign by performing at the inaugural RSA Pantomime Horse Derby.

Andrew Gould, of Berrall Way, demonstrated various dressage movements to explain how a real horse moves, before the pantomime horses attempted to emulate the movements. The event, which was held at Royal Windsor Racecourse on Wednesday July 30, raised more than £17,000 for the charity.

Mr Gould rode Katie Price's horse, Jordan's Glamour Girl. He performed for the pantomime horse competitors and spectators to demonstrate the finer points of dressage.

He was accompanied by his wife Polly, who commented on how the horse's movements are executed and the level of difficulty that her husband and Jordan's Glamour Girl were working at.

Mr Gould said: "It is great to be able to support such a worthwhile charity, but when I agreed to ride at the event I had no idea of what I was letting myself in for."

"The pantomime horse teams have been great sports and I hope we can raise lots of money for the charity."

Twenty-three teams battled it out in 100m races and had a go at performing pantomime horse dressage, much to the enjoyment of the crowd.

Mr and Mrs Gould judged the pantomime dressage horse competition with celebrity commentator, Dr David Bull.

Amanda Williams, director of fundraising of Breast Cancer Campaign, said: "Andrew and Polly were fantastic showing us how dressage should be done and really entering into the spirit of the day with their judging skills helping us raise £17k for breast cancer research."

The event was organised by the RSA to support the Breast Cancer Campaign and raise funds to help beat breast cancer.

i More info

To find out more about the Breast Cancer Campaign visit www.breastcancer.org.

International dressage star Andrew Gould demonstrating his skills at the RSA Pantomime Horse Derby.