

Lecture Demonstration by Andrew Gould and Emily Llewellyn

in Aid of Spinal Research, Saddle Up Campaign, Sponsored by Equine America

Equine America is proud to be hosting a lecture demonstration evening with top international dressage rider Andrew Gould and top up and coming event rider Emily Llewellyn to raise money for Spinal Research, Saddle Up Campaign as part of Andrews London Marathon run.

The evening event will be held at Oldenraig Equestrian Centre on the 26th March and will include riding demonstrations from both riders on a variety of horses, including dressage and jumping the event horse. There will also be a demonstration by Point Two Air Jackets and a chance to meet both riders.

All proceeds from the evening, including from a Charity Raffle full of amazing horsey goodies kindly donated by a number of companies, and from the ticket sales, will go to support the Spinal Research, Saddle Up Campaign (for further details see www.spinal-research.org), for which Andrew is an Ambassador, and is running the London Marathon this year.

Join them for an enjoyable and informative evening while supporting an incredible charity. The facilities include an onsite bar and bistro – so make an evening of it with your friends. Tickets are available until the 19th March for £10 per person, and will also be available on the night for £15. For more information or to purchase tickets call Equine America on 01403 255809 or email kate@cortaflex.co.uk

Kate says: "Look forward to seeing you all there!"
